Bret Lindquist

Photographer / Videographer based in Seoul

I've worked as a photographer for more than 20 years, shooting events, brand campaigns, commercial projects and private gatherings.

My experience includes celebrity and brand events for Major League Baseball, as well as regatta and campaign photography for RS Sailing, alongside a wide range of entertainment, hospitality and commercial work. My photography has also appeared in publications including The Korea Times.

I'm most interested in the moments that happen between the expected ones. I work comfortably inside an event, getting close to the action without disrupting it, and knowing when to observe and when to direct. That approach lets me capture both the photographs a client knows they need and the ones they didn't know were there until they see them.
